BISHOP C.H. MASON

THE MAN WHO FANNED THE FIRES OF TRUE HOLINESS

THE TESTIMONY OF BISHOP CHARLES HARRISON MASON, CHIEF APOSTLE OF THE CHURCHES OF GOD IN CHRIST.

"I was saved in Plumervill, Arkansas eighty-seven years ago when I was seven years old. I received the Baptism of the Holy Ghost in 1906 on Azusa Street in Los Angeles, California during a Holy Ghost Revival conducted by Eld.-W.J. Seymoure.

"The name of the Church of God in Christ was revealed to me in the Spirit in 1897. Founded the First General Assembly of the Church in 1907.

"I have been in jail many times for the cause of the Gospel. Once in Paris, Texas and once in Houston, Texas. I have suffered a many persecution for the sake of the Gospel but God has always delivered me. I've been through so many things that I can't remember them all now.

I've traveled a many miles also been on foreign soil as far as England to take this great Truth."

In the year 1895, Elders C.P. Jones, C.H. Mason and others, while searching the Scriptures, saw that they could not be saved without holiness. Thev were sanctified through the truth and began to preach this doctrine to their hearers. Eld. C.H. Mason, being set forth to defend the gospel, prayed earnestly for a name that would not depart from the Scripture. And at the same time distinguish the true followers from the false. Therefore in the year 1897 while walking along a certain street in Little - Rock, Ark. the Lord revealed this name: "The Church Of God In Christ." with the following scriptures to support it. 1 Thess. 2:14. "For ye brethen became followers of the Churches Of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus." For ye have suffered like things of your own countrymen even as they have of the Jews".

Later in the same year, Elder C.H. Mason called a meeting in Memphis, Tennessee of all the ministers who believed in receiving the baptism of the Holy Ghost according to the Scriptures, Acts 2:4. Among the Elders who responded to this great call were E.R. Driver, J. Bowe. R.R. Booker, W.M. Roberts, R.E. Hart, D.W. Welch, A.A. Blackwell, E.M. Page, R.H.I. Clark, D.J.-Young, James Brewer, Daniel Sprarman, and J.H. Boone.

FIRST BLACK JOURNALIST EVER ELECTED TO CONGRESS

SUPPORTING OUR COLLEGE STUDENTS

Most Black students who are making plans this year to enter or graduate from college have never had it so bad.

The worsening economy has left these student clinging to a tattered financial rope that is about to snap. Unemployment for our young people is approaching 50 percent. Prospects for summer jobs, which have provided students with funds to help defray educational expenses, are bleak. The persistent recession continues to hamper already hard-pressed Black families in the struggle against the rising costs of college.

On top of all this, the proposed Reagan budget for Fiscal Year 1983 projects only $1.8 - billion in financial aid to all college students. This represents a cut of $1.9 billion, or more than half.

Many Black students are finding their hopes for a better future fading. As their educational desires and aspirations lose steam, so will our chances to forge more viable neighborhoods, especially in urban centers. The Black community, now more than ever, needs the minds and energies of Black students.

In the middle 1960s, Educational Opportunity Program grants and loans, as a prong of the Great Society thrust, made it possible for increasing numbers of Blacks to enroll in colleges. Reagonomics now threatens to close those avenues.

Additionally, Black colleges, which traditionally have served Black students unable to enter other colleges because of financial or academic deficiencies, are now hurting. They are struggling against deficit-ridden budgets, reductions in student loans, and generally declining enrollments, brought about in part by the talent drain of promising Black students switching to white schools.

At the same time, paradoxically, the majority of Black students who enroll in white colleges are failing to graduate. Also, Black students attending two-year community collegew often are not securing the classes needed to insure their ability to transfer to four-year schools.

Added to the dismal picture described above, the elitist philosophy that higher education is only for the priviledged few is again rearing its ugly head. Recently, for example, the president of Harvard, Derek Bok, suggested that student aid should be given primarily to students with the best academic records or grade point averages.

Not only are these students less likely to drop out of college, he said, but they are inherently better suited for college because they tend to come from families where college has been a tradition.

We must unite against wide acceptance of this dangerous philosophy. We must pull together every organizational entity within our communities to make sure that our students get the financial backing they need for college and that Black institutions of higher learning continue to pursue their special mission.

If we allow our access to education to be closed off, we will have gone a long way toward surrendering our destiny to others and forever blocking the path to self-determination.

VEHICLE FOR HANDICAPPED

Arthur E. Teele, Jr., Urban Mass Transportation Administrator.

Teele recently reaffirmed the Reagan Administration's strong commitment to elderly and handicapped persons. Teele emphasized this commitment in Miami, Fla., where two prototype vehicles designed to accomodate handicapped as well as non-handicapped individuals were placed in service for a feasibility study in Metropolitan Dade County.

"One of the more serious problems handicapped persons face in the job market is transportation," Teele said. "We hope the kinds of vehicles we are demonstrating in this program will go a long way towards reducing this problem."

The three-week test, which began May 3, is being conducted under the auspices of Metro Taxi, Inc. Such factors as general practicability, maneuverability on city streets and rider response are being monitored and evaluated.

This special program, Teele said, "underlines the Reagan Administration's strong commitment to our nation's elderly and handicapped citizens."

Following completion of the test, assuming the results are satisfactory, Teele said he will authorize the Florida Department of Transportation to proceed with a $500,000 grant from UMTA to buy and deploy ten vehicles for more extended testing.

The test in Miami marks the first time these vehicles, designed and built for UMTA, have been placed in service on City Streets, after nearly a year of laboratory road tests for durability, safety and other features.

Teele stressed that the test vehicles are phototypes, saying that UMTA intends to "follow their performance very closely to see how well they do under the demands of day-in, day-out service. We also will be soliciting comments of passengers and drivers."

The vehicles were displayed at a special pre-test demonstration May 1, at the Center for Survival and Independent Living in Miami.

INTERMART INTERNATIONAL

A reception at the Tacoma Lawn Tennis Club was held May 5, 1982 honoring the Nigerian Ambassador to the United States. His Excellency Chief A.Y. Eke was warmly greeted by members of the Tacoma and Seattle Communities. Attending the reception were Tacoma Mayor - Doug Sutherland, WA State Agricultural Director Keith Ellis and Mrs. Ellis, and Mr. - Tom Jacka of the US-Department of Commerce. Other distinguished guests included Professor O. Babajinmi Thomas, Managing Director of Intermart International (Nig.)Ltd, a Nigerian-based company whose principal activities in foreign trade include the promotion and marketing of agricultural and fishery products, portable housing and industrial technology. Because of the historic role of the State of WA as a prime source of top quality food products and industrial/commercial know-how, Intermart International (Nig.) Ltd is actively cooperating with several leading Washington - State companies in bringing their products to Nigeria.

CATCH THAT AGAPE SPIRIT

"In a traffic jam, anything that moves becomes pretty obvious,"says Minister Robert Penton II when giving his philosophy about his dream.

The Agape-Cue-Restaurant was born through divine inspiration given him only 9 months ago. "Faith at Work, is Faith that Works,"James 2:17-18.

"Agape is the Greek work for Love "love feast," Christ-like love that each Christian must possess. "Cue is short term for "good ole southern style barbeque." Put them together and you have a love feast with lots of delicious barbeque.

Dedication ceremonies were officiated by Dr. Alfred C. Davis, pastor of Eastside Community Church, through which the restaurant is sponsored. The May 5, attendence was comprised largely of the church's membership. Because of the many supporters, May 6, 1982 was also set aside in further celebration, with the grand opening to the public on Friday, May 7, 1982.

AUTOCAP

Fritz Hanson has been elected as chairman of AUTOCAP, a statewide consumer action program set up by Washington State new car and truck dealers to mediate disputes between owners and participating dealers and manufacturers.

AUTOCAP, patterned after a highly successful program operating in 21 states, was set up jointly by the Washington State and Puget Sound Automobile Dealers Associations. It offers information and assistance to consumers and, with the help of consumer representatives, reviews complaints that can't be resolved. Its decisions are binding upon particiating dealer members but not on the consumer. The program is totally run by consumers but financed by the new car dealers.

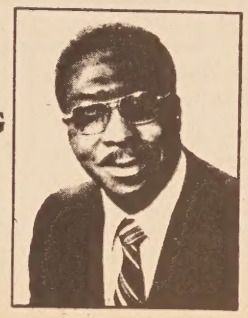
WILLIS R BAKER HEALING WATERS

BK
BUCKLEY-KING FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Since 1883
Willis Baker, Memorial Counselor



Willis Baker, Memorial Counselor for BUCKLEY KING Funeral Directors, comes to us with his column entitled "Healing Waters". Rev Baker is a pastor in the Tacoma Area, married with 4 children.

Hi! Since this is a new column, I though just a word about the title would be appropriate. Healing Waters may sound like a medical or religious term to some of you but to those of us in the arena of helping to heal human hurts it has a more connotive meaning.

Healing Waters is "people helping people" and that takes some doing! It takes overcoming indifference, raising curiosity, correcting wrong ideas and presenting the truth in bite size chunks. It is the help applied and the compassionate concern shown when a neighbor, friend or relative is caught in one of the many storms of life.

Times of calamity, death, sudden change in conditions or relationships come to everyone. Even if the event is anticipated it may be of such devastating nature as to find us unprepared to cope with it. That is what a crisis or storm usually mean in our lives. An occurance which throws us into a state of confusion or disorganization where all our former ways of acting and thinking are of little or no help to us. Here the solution is often beyond the power of the individual alone. Thats when he needs the help of a professional or that compassionate friend to apply the healing waters of life to restore him to wholeness and health.

That is what this column will be about. We will be looking closely to find some methods or guiding principles to help you, or at least to reach an understanding of how these devastating events affect you, and how to meet them without fear. Knowing where to find the right kind of help is also important.

There has never been a greater need than now for understanding and awareness of the services and concerns of the funeral industry. Here are a group of highly trained people who have dedicated themselves to applying the healing waters of life in the hour of greatest need. Speaking of needs and helps. Did you know that more than 5,000 people work in the funeral industry in the state of Washington? Have you considered that you may have to make as many as 50 decisions within 48 hours when a death occurs? Would you believe that the cost of the average "standard" funeral in the nation is - $2,200 to 2,500 dollars and that the average total cemetery cost range from $1,600 to $2,000 dollars? How about this, that over half of all the flowers sold are for funerais? A recent survey showed that 71% of the public say they don't have enough information about the funeral industry. Just hold on! These and many other matters we will bring to your attention in future issues. Remember, "we can work it out together" as we bring you Healing Waters.

NEW YORK- Despite the Senate Judiciary Committee's recent approval of a compromise version of the voting Rights Act extension, there is still a great deal of work to be done to insure that the extension of the Act becomes a reality, Benjamin L.-Hooks, executive director of the NAACP, noted today.

Mr. Hooks and Althea T.L. Simmons, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau, were two of the main :movers and shakers" in carrying the bill through the House of Representatives and the Senate Judiciary Committee with its effectiveness intact. They are urging the Associations's 1,800 branches, college chapters and state conferences and each of its 400,000 members to write, call or send telegrams to Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker asking him to bring the Voting Rights Extension bill to the floor as soon as possible for final action.

Mr. Hooks called on NAACP members and friends interested in preserving the precious and fundamental right to vote to let their senators know of their interest in having a strong Voting Rights Extension passed by the Senate.

Mr. Hooks urged branch leaders to keep a close watch on votes by senators and congressmen on other civil rights and economic issues that have a direct impact on minorities and the poor

COUNTING THE POOR

The quickest, surest and fastest way to end poverty is by changing the definition of who is poor. At least that's the route taken by a recent Census Bureau report.

It is a swift, fool-proof way of cutting poverty by forty percent. The trick is to count the full value of federal benefits such as food stamps, housing assistance and Medicaid as income to their recipients. Do this and, presto, poverty for millions of people just melts away. They are no longer poor, according to the Bureau's report.

Isn't it ridiculous, for example, to treat Medicaid payments as cash indetermining income? Le's say a poor person has cash income of $5,000 and has open heart surgery paid for by Medicaid. Does that mean he is no longer poor or that his income is really $15,000 or $20,000 or whatever the cost of his medical bill is?

And if a poor person lives in public housing is he less poor if you add on to his earnings the difference between the rent he pays and the true cost of his apartment to the government? If you are going to count public housing subsidies to the poor, how about counting as income morgage interest subsidies to homeowners? Why impute as income a whole range of marginal subsidies that let the poor survive without also including as income the tax loopholes and indirect subsidies that make the rich richer?

Even more to the point, the poverty standard itself is hopelessly outdated and is not a useful measurement. It dates from calculations made in the early 1960s' and is based on an emergency food budget for temporary use only. Instead of being used as a crisis level signalling extreme deprivation, it is used as a permanent "lower living standard" measure.

That so-called poverty level now is set at - $8,414 for an urban family of four. But the labor Department says it takes over $15,000 for the same family to reach a minimally acceptable "lower" living standard -- and that's strictly no frills family budget with rock-bottom rent, no nights out and no shopping trips for new clothes.

A third of American families and the majority of Black families earned less than that Labor Department lower budget in 1980. So poverty and hardship can't be defined out of existence, no matter how hard some people may try. Statistics aren't people, and it is people who are poor and who are hurting.

The war on poverty is far from over, and it will take a lot more than a simple declaration of Victory to win it. For starters, the programs that have been proved by the Census Bureau to have an impact on the poor should be extended to all of the poor, and a massive domestic Marshall Plan launched to finally provide jobs, training and decent living standards for all.

PIERCE TRANSIT

Pierce Transit bus drivers will compete for driving honors at a Bus Rodeo beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday at Tacoma Community College.

Trophies will be awarded and a representative of Pierce-Transit will be selected to participate in the American Public Transportation Association's national competition in Boston this fall.

The Bus Rodeo is a test of driving skill and knowledge of safety regulations and bus inspection and a driving skill and knowledge of safety regulations and bus equipment. Competition includes a safety quiz, personal appearance rating, pre-trip bus inspection and a driving test in which bus operators will weave a 35-foot bus through a twisting, stop-and-go-course judged by law-enforcement officials.

A Fun Day Rodeo will be held at TCC on Sunday for drivers and maintenance personnel not eligible to compete in this year's main event.

Malcolm's Sports Report

What about the Seventy Sixers? after the no contest, the Sixers have come to life. But will the hand of fate strike them again like it did last year. Well time will tell because the celtics are not going to lay down. Without Nate Arichibald Boston does not have that quickness like they need in the transition game. This series has shown me Philly is going to show everyone they do have some Pride" a lot of it". Without Archibald Boston is hurting" as quiet as it is kept", I picked Boston, but without Nate Philly has a good chance. Will, from the strip told me to talk about Clint Richardson former O-'Dea and Seattle"U" Product. When he played for Seattle U, he led the conference in scoring for three years. He has been a thorn in the side to the Celtics. He does not get a lot of points, but the ones he does get are crucial, plus the boards are very important also. He is going to be a key factor in this series. Not that he has not been already but like I said before, Boston is not going to laydown and die. Andrew Toney is a super player. He came off the bench all year to spark the sixers in many of wins. I don't know why he has not been on any sports magazine covers. The announcers and sports writers have said he is not a complete basketball player, are they getting surprise. To me Toney will be the key to Philly winning it all. He will be on the front pages of the sports magazines also. "He better Be" The Lakers is still my pick to win it all. Bob McAdoo is going to be one of the key factors. He has said it is a great feeling to know you will win more than you will lose. And he wants that Championship Ring.- comming soon at the Sportsmans club Karate at its finest. Have any questions or answers, drop me a line.

This Week's Scriptures

SOME FACTS FROM GOD TO YOU.

FIRST-You need to be Saved.

"Except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God" (John 3:3).

"For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23).

"All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way" (Isa. 53:6).

SECOND- You Cannot Save Yourself.

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us"(Titus-3:5).

"By the works of the law shall no flesh be justified" (Galations 2:16).

"Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me" (John 14:6).

THIRD- Jesus Has Already Provided for Your Salvation.

"Come; for all things are now ready" (Luke 14:17).

"For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust that he might bring us to God" (I Peter 3:18).

FOURTH- Jesus Will Enable You to Overcome Temptation.

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape" (I Cor.10:13).

"The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and reserve the unjust unto the day of judgement to be punished" (IIPeter 2:9).

FIFTH- Your Part.

Repent (turn from your sins). "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3).

We welcome news of your church and civic events.
